

Drawing Minimal Bridge Projections of Links

Chad Musick

Nagoya University

Abstract. A method is given to achieve a minimal-bridge projection of a knot. This method relies on maze-solving and minimal path finding to shift all over-crossings off of extra underpasses. The method is proven correct by considering the knot as a fiber bundle from one end of a cylinder to the other end.